FORWARD

With this catalog we begin our third year of Monthly Coin Auctions (coin auctions held occasionally before), and are using the 1947 Standard Catalogue of United States Coins. Please keep in mind that the prices in the Standard Catalogue were prepared earlier in the year. Since then many of the popular coins have advanced and we now are prepared to pay catalog and over for a number of the scarcer popular coins.

We quote from the Introduction of the 1947

Standard Catalogue.

EDITOR'S NOTE

"The past year has been rather a confusing one for numismatists. The general rise in price of nearly all United States coins has continued unabated and the stocks of the more prominent dealers have been much depleted. New values have been most spectacular in double eagles particularly the proofs. Two large auction sales during the season established new high prices on the scarcer dates of this series. Gold dollars seem to have regained their popularity of former days and have advanced considerably. Three dollar pieces are in great demand with very few collections offered. Silver dollars continue to be much sought for and the prices of early issues and proofs show no sign of receding. Minor coins, always the mainstay of the market, are still the favorites with the average collector. Issues before 1880 are not readily available. Fine large cents are coming into their own again and several high records have been made for choice early pieces. Half cents are in great demand and prices on even the commoner dates have advanced sharply."
